HEAVY STORM LOSSES IN EASTERN CANADA

Premier Is Accorded Impressive Tribute On Return From East

Canadian Club Gives Hon. J. D. MacLean Enthusiastic Welcome as He Tells Large Audience of Interprovincial Conference Results; All Parts of Canada Will Benefit From Gathering of Provincial Representatives, He Predicts; Parley Revealed New National Spirit in Dominion, Government Leader Finds

Few public men have received from the Victoria Canadian Club a tribute like that paid to Premier MacLean today, on his return from the Interprovincial Conference, Representative Victorians, who crowded the Empress Hotel ballroom for the club's luncheon meeting, joined in a rousing welcome to the Government leader, and after listening to his masterly address on Canadian affairs, showed their approval by prolonged applause.

The recent gathering of provincial representatives in Ottawa will produce rich results for every part of Canada, the Premier told one of the largest audiences which has ever attended a Canadian Club luncheon here. The results of the conference, he said, would be felt in an increased understanding among Canadians, in a stronger national spirit, in a readiness of provincial difficulties and irritations. The conference had showed, he declared, that Canada was thinking nationally as never before, that all the provinces were willing to make concessions in order to help one another. From these positive offers of co-operation, the Canadian Government and the Canadian Parliament, he predicted, would work out solutions for all problems facing the Dominion.

TRUE WEST REVEALED

From the standpoint of British Columbia, the Premier said, one of the chief features of the conference had been its clear revelation of Western Canada's attitude towards the country as a whole. Ideas prevalent in the West, that the West was selfish and radical, had disappeared entirely when western representatives explained their stand on national issues. Westerners had shown that they were good Canadians and as good Britishers as anyone in the East. Altogether, in promoting the development of a great country, the conference had been one of the most momentous gatherings in the history of the Dominion, the Premier affirmed.

CHAIRMAN'S TRIBUTE

Introducing the Premier, Kenneth Ferguson, president of the Canadian Club, paid a warm tribute to Dr. MacLean on his first appearance before the club since he became leader of the Government.

"The highest honor which the people of British Columbia can confer is well deserved by Dr. MacLean," he said amid applause. "He has a breath of viewpoint exceeded by few public men in Canada; his earnest devotion to duty no doubt was a big factor in causing his selection as Premier."

Prolonged and loud applause greeted the Premier as he rose to speak.

OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Introducing his reference to the Interprovincial Conference, Dr. MacLean recalled the history of Confederation, the beginning of an entirely new experiment in government. The union of the provinces had been one consummated under the British North Derby, Eng., Nov. 18 (Canadian Press Cable).—Gerald H. Deane's three-year-old colt Blackness won the Derby Cup Handicap to-day by a neck from Reid Walker's five-year-old Ivershin.

Lieut. C. W. Birkin's French horse, Sampire II, was third, another three lengths back.

Eleven good horses went the mile and six furlongs for the cup and about $4,000 added money.

The betting was 11 to 2 against Blackness and Ivershin and 20 to 1 against Sampire II.

Two Missing British Fliers Came Down In Poland and Are Returning To England

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 18.—Colonel Rayski, chief of the Polish Air Force, announced late to-day he had received a telephone report from Lwow that Captain R. H. Macintosh and Bert Hinkler, missing British aviators, had left Eastern Galicia at 9.45 o'clock this morning en route to London.

The British aviators had not asked for any help. Colonel Rayski was informed, and because of their lack of knowledge of the language, the local police were unable to establish the reason for the landing of the aviators who left Upravon, Eng., early Tuesday morning to make a nonstop flight to India.

FOG IS BLAMED

It is believed here they landed because of a dense fog.

The place of landing was given as Bialokrynka, in the district of Podhajce, the same town at which the aviators were reported to have been reported in dispatches from Lemberg.

When they left England on Tuesday the fliers hoped to set up a new world long-distance record for non-stop aeroplane flights.

Kasba Tadia, Morocco, Nov. 18.—Six French prisoners, two of them women and two of them little girls, who had been held by Moors for weeks for ransom in the Atlas Mountains, returned to civilization yesterday, while 2,000,000 francs in gold ($400,000) laden on the backs of camels and mules, found their way into the mountain recesses.

PREMIER KING NEXT WEEK TO VISIT U.S.

Will be Guest of President Coolidge at Luncheon Wednesday

Washington, Nov. 18 (Canadian Press).—That Premier King's visit to Washington next week will really be only a social call appears from the long list of social functions arranged in his honor. Certainly there will be little time for anything else.

The Canadian Prime Minister will be here Tuesday afternoon, November 22. By the time the newspapermen have finished interviewing him he will be due at the White House, where he will pay his respects to President Coolidge in a formal call. He will dine that night at the residence of Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State.

GUEST OF PRESIDENT

On Wednesday Premier King will lunch at the White House. The same day he will be the guest of honor at a tea at the British Embassy and at dinner at the Canadian Legation.

On Thursday he will lunch with Senator Peter Gerry of Rhode Island, a friend of his Harvard University days. In the afternoon the Premier will meet another fashionable Washington crowd at tea in the Canadian Legation, and will dine later at the British Embassy as a guest of Sir Esme Howard.

In addition to all these functions it is likely Mr. King will have to face one or two breakfast parties, a vague set in Washington by President Coolidge.

U.S. Oil Company In Mexico Wins Court Decision

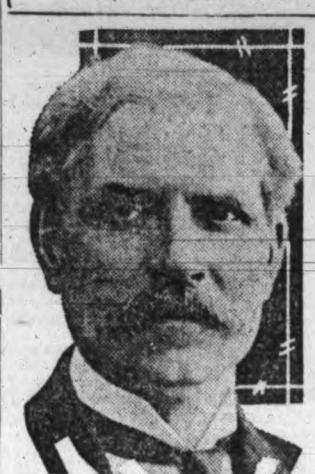

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—The Mexican Supreme Court yesterday ruled in favor of the American Petroleum Company, a United States concern, in the first decision involving the new petroleum law. The court unanimously granted the appeal restraining the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor from cancelling certain of the company's permits.

This morning a biting wind was still felt in the Ottawa district and a light snow was falling.

RT. HON. J. RAMSAY MACDONALD

Leader of the Labor Party of Great Britain

London, Nov. 18.—The health of Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, former Labor Premier of Great Britain, is still causing his friends some anxiety and the Labor leader is still under medical supervision, but his condition is not so bad as has been reported in some newspapers.

"I don't think it is quite as bad as that," he said when asked if the report was true that he was unable constantly to attend the ordinary sessions of the House of Commons and had been strongly advised to take a long holiday abroad.

"I believe I am improving," he continued. "I am going to do what I can. I don't want to go away on a holiday when the country is in its present state. One time I was very far down—much farther than the people know—but I'm getting along slowly."

MACLEAN PLANS TO PRESS FOR NORTHERN LAND

Will File Peace River Brief With Martin Commission at Hearing Soon

With Premier MacLean back at his desk in the Parliament buildings "not discouraged" about the Pacific Great Eastern, the Provincial Government prepared to-day to take the next step in the solution of the whole railway problem. This step will be the early completion of Mr. Justice Martin's inquiry into the proper ownership of the Peace River Block, which British Columbia wants to use for subsidizing northern railway construction as an extension of the P.G.E. line.

PLAN FINAL MEETING

The commission will hold its final sessions, of vital importance to the Province, in Ottawa just before Christmas, according to word just received by the Premier. The decision of the commissioner on this Province's claim for the return of the Peace River Block should be ready early in the year and possibly before the end of the Legislature's annual session.

ISSUE IS IMPORTANT

Indicating the importance which the Government attaches to the results of Mr. Justice Martin's inquiry, Premier MacLean announced that, in addition to the arguments already submitted in favor of the return of the northern lands, he would file a brief on the question personally. This brief will be (Concluded on page 3)

HIGHEST HONORS DECLINED BY COL. LAWRENCE

Adventurer Did Not Accept V.C. and D.S.O.; Says Arabs Not Treated Fairly

His Views of Levantine Post-war Affairs Given in Book Just Published

London, Nov. 18.—How Colonel T. E. Lawrence, who lived with the Arabs with a price on his head, organized them to drive back the Turks out of Syria during the World War and made Emir Faisal King of Iraq, declined the decorations and honors which King George offered him, was revealed to-day. Lawrence's friend, Robert Graves, poet and professor of English literature in the Egyptian University, in his book "Lawrence and the Arabs," just published, tells Lawrence's version of his interview with the King.

NOW IN INDIAN ARMY

Colonel Lawrence, who as Air Craftsman Shaw is now serving in the Indian Air Force by his own choice as a private, told Graves just what had induced him to reject the King's honors, which included the Victoria Cross, the Distinguished Service Order and a Companionship in the Order of the Bath.

Lawrence came to the conclusion the Arabs had not received a square deal. He said they had fought with him because they understood they would be allowed to keep Damascus and Syria after the war, but the treaty handed these over to the French.

DESCRIBED HIS PART

Graves recites this as Lawrence's version of what he said to the King about the honors.

"He explained to the sovereign that the part he (Lawrence) had played in the Arab revolt was dishonorable to himself, to his country, and Government. He had, by order, led the Arabs with false hopes and would now be obliged if he might be quietly relieved of the obligation to accept honors for succeeding in his fraud."

Graves, before publishing this, asked Lord Stamfordham, the King's private secretary, to get permission to print a paragraph he received in a letter from Lord Stamfordham saying the (Concluded on page 3)

Arrests Follow Yakima Riots

Authorities Move to Protect Filipino Workers in That Part of Washington

Yakima, Nov. 18.—Warrants for the arrest of six white men living on the Yakima Reservation, who are alleged to have been members of a group which threatened and intimidated Filipinos on the night of November 8, are in the hands of police to-day.

It is expected the defendants will be booked without delay.

The charge is being brought in justice court and the authorities believe their action may discourage any threats of violence in the future.

ORIENTALS PROTESTED

The warrants are the outcome of a conference here, when half a dozen Filipinos, all leasing reservation property, protested against the demonstrations staged last week and asked for protection.

The warrants charge the white men assembled and threatened bodily injury to the Filipinos unless they left by midnight. It is understood the Filipinos have also appealed to their commissioner at Washington and announced they have begun an investigation of the situation here.

The basis of the agitation among the white workers is their objection to the importation of Orientals to work in the Yakima Valley.

Halibut Inquiry Session Is Held At Ketchikan

Seattle, Nov. 18.—The International Halibut Commission, which is considering means of preventing an impending halibut shortage in the North Pacific, will meet in Ketchikan to-morrow as commander of the Nanking force, is rumored to be planning to re-enter military life or to assume leadership of the civilian element of the Chinese Nationalist party.

As a closed season, extending from November 16 to February 15, both days inclusive, it is proposed closed areas also be established to prevent depletion of the fish.

TALK OF U.S. QUOTA LAW FOR CANADIANS WITHOUT FOUNDATION

Declared Congress at Coming Session Will Introduce no Such Change

Policy of Washington Government is to Prevent Friction at Border

Washington, Nov. 18 (Canadian Press).—Revision of the United States immigration laws appears to be inevitable at the coming session of Congress. It is not likely any drastic change in the laws will be made so far as they affect Canadians. Talk of extending the quota law, for instance, to natives of Canada has been confined to individuals and isolated groups. Asked by the Canadian Press if a Canadian quota was likely, a high official of the Immigration Department replied: "It was extremely unlikely."

A similar question to a State Department official elicited the reply: "God forbid."

AVOIDING EXPENSE

No Government officials here want to be saddled with an expensive and irritating system of red tape at the Canadian border. It would be irritating alike to the United States and to Canadians crossing the border and it might lead to friction within the international labor unions. While private citizens here and there are making speeches in favor of exclusion of (Concluded on page 3)

OTTAWA IS TO RULE ON EXTRADITION CASE

In Vancouver Judge Refuses Habeas Corpus Order For Patrick A. O'Connor

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—For the purpose of obtaining the release on bail of Patrick A. O'Connor, who is held at the city police station here for extradition to Alabama on a charge of performing an illegal operation, W. B. Cochrane, secretary to the Chief Justice, this morning to Mr. Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus on the prisoner's behalf.

The application was refused by the judge.

"I don't think I should grant bail at this juncture," remarked the judge, after counsel had informed him O'Connor had unsuccessfully brought habeas corpus proceedings before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald and his Chief Justice Hunter and that the matter of his return to Alabama was under consideration by the Minister of Justice at Ottawa.

Fire and Great Explosion Cause of Destruction

Coffeyville, Kas., Nov. 18.—Fire, followed by an explosion of 380 quares of nitroglycerine, which wrecked houses and buildings for miles around, destroyed the plant of the Independent Torpedo Company near Jefferson, Kas., eleven miles northeast of here, shortly after noon to-day. There were no casualties.

Vindictive Takes Force to Relieve Submarine Crews; Gen. Chiang Again Active

Shanghai, Nov. 18.—The British cruiser Vindictive, which yesterday reported headed for Hankow, now is said to have started for Nanking with 350 British troops to relieve submarines on duty there.

No troops have been sent to Hankow, where the situation is quiet.

CHIANG TO REAPPEAR

Shanghai, Nov. 18.—Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, who withdrew some time ago as commander of the Nanking force, is rumored to be planning to re-enter military life or to assume leadership of the civilian element of the Chinese Nationalist party.

As a closed season, extending from November 16 to February 15, both days inclusive, it is proposed closed areas also be established to prevent depletion of the fish.

In addition to the military troubles, 33,000 villages in China are faced with famine conditions, according to official reports reaching the Chinese International Famine Committee. The conditions, caused by drought and locusts, are aggravated by warfare and banditry.

EXPLOSION RIPS SHIP TO PIECES AT BALTIMORE

One Man Killed and Five Injured When Ss. Jacob Luckenbach Destroyed

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 18.—A terrific explosion tore the steamship Jacob Luckenbach to pieces here to-day, killing one man, Todvil Simonsen of this city, injuring five men and blowing at least one man overboard.

The explosion occurred on the first deck of the vessel, where workmen were said to have been engaged with an acetylene torch near a fuel tank.

Harry Hughes, an employee of the shipbuilding concern, was the first to reach the wreckage.

"I heard a terrific blast and ran outside," he said. "I saw pieces of the ship falling in every direction. I went to the aid of the injured men, but I don't know how many there were."

AMBULANCES SENT

Every ambulance in the city was summoned to the yards of the Union Shipbuilding Company at Fairfield, on the southern edge of town, where the ship lay.

Scarcely had echoes of the blast died away when frightened, terrified women, whose men were at work in the shipbuilding plant, attempted to storm the pier and dock and ally fears as to the safety of loved ones.

Police reserves, jumping from patrol after patrol, were distributed about the place and none was admitted.

NEW P.G.E. OFFER TO BE DISCUSSED

Plan of British Capitalists to Be Laid Before B.C. Cabinet Next Monday

North Vancouver, Nov. 18.—An offer of $35,000,000 reported to have been made by English capitalists for completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be laid before the Government of British Columbia next Monday.

A party of ten or twelve citizens of the north shore of Burrard Inlet will leave Sunday night for Victoria to interview Premier MacLean and his Cabinet. Those contemplating the trip are Mayor G. H. Morden, Reeve J. M. Fromme, Reeve McNaught of Lynn Valley and representatives from the North and West Vancouver Boards of Trade.

Details of the offer, sponsored by A. Philip, will not be publicly announced till they have been placed before the Premier, it is said.

Marketing Fine Is To Be Appealed

Kamloops, Nov. 18.—A. C. Skaling, counsel for Meh Chung, convicted under the Provincial Marketing Act on Wednesday and fined $50, has been instructed to lodge an appeal in county court before Judge Swanson. This has not yet been done, but there is no doubt an appeal will be taken, says Mr. Skaling.

The case involves the legality of the British Columbia co-operative marketing legislation.

15,000 OFFER TO GO FROM CANADA AND U.S. TO BRAZIL TO FIND MISSING EXPLORERS

New York, Nov. 18.—The spirit of adventure apparently is not dead in this modern age.

Fifteen thousand applications so far have been received by Commander George M. Dyson, who is seeking a fourth man for his expedition into the Brazilian wilderness in search of Col. P. H. Fawcett, missing British explorer, and his companions.

Quebec, Nov. 18.—A man named Bruyere, believed to have been a resident of Donnacona, lost his life last night when his automobile was washed over the Donnacona Bridge by the flood waters of the Jacques Cartier River. Bruyere's companion had a remarkable escape.

Another automobile also went over the bridge, but the occupants were able to scramble ashore.

The Donnacona Bridge, one of the most important structures on the Provincial Highway, is reported to be in grave danger on account of the rushing waters which were precipitated last night by the opening of the floodgates located about a quarter of a mile above the bridge.

The Jacques Cartier River has risen twenty-two feet and the whole district is flooded. The church at Ste. Catherine, Que., has water lapping at the steps. The whole district of Valcartier is flooded. Basements are filled with water and the people are moving about in canoes and small boats.

Quebec, Nov. 18.—Considerable damage has been caused in Quebec City by the worst rainstorm that has visited this district during the last fifty years. Reports of heavy rain have been received from all farm lands throughout this district and in the Eastern Townships of Quebec Province, where extensive damage has been done by similar weather conditions two weeks ago, are reaching the city to-day, indicating the property losses will be heavy.

During the last three days a record rainfall of three and a half inches played havoc with the sewage system of the upper part of this city, with the result that this morning gangs of street workers were endeavoring to remove some of the water from the streets of Bevelde Ward with the aid of pumps. Serious damage has already been caused in the Bevelde district through the flooding of cellars of hundreds of houses in the area extending from St. Louis Road to Ste. Foye Road.

Reports reaching here from Beauce County are to the effect that the village of Scott, in the Eastern Townships, is in danger of being flooded by the Chaudiere River, which has risen several feet above its normal level.

The suspension bridge over the Jacques Cartier River has been so badly damaged by the rushing waters of the river that it is considered unsafe. Two motor cars have fallen off the bridge from a height of twenty-five feet, without receiving serious injury, however.

ROAD DAMAGED

Serious damage also was caused to the Quebec-Murray Bay highway, the macadamized surface of the road having been broken through for a considerable distance.

HIGHEST HONORS DECLINED BY COL. LAWRENCE

King did not remember that Lawrence's statement was as recorded by Graves, but that in declining the decorations Lawrence had briefly explained he had made certain promises to King Faisal, that these had not been fulfilled and consequently he might possibly find himself fighting against the British forces, in which case it would be obviously wrong to be wearing British decorations.

CURZON WEPT

The book contains many interesting stories, including one telling how the late Marquis Curzon of Kedleston wept at a post-war Cabinet meeting held to discuss the Eastern question. Lawrence was present and in answering a question as to whether he wished to say anything said:

"Yes, let's get down to business. You people don't understand yet the hole you have put us all into."

Thereupon Marquis Curzon burst into tears, great drops rolling down his cheeks to the accompaniment of slow sobbing. Viscount Cecil, however, brought him to, saying: "Now, old man, none of that."

Marquis Curzon wiped his eyes and the business proceeded.

Canadian workers, responsible officials of the Government prefer to leave well enough alone. The alien contract labor laws and the ordinary regulations as they apply to non-quota countries are expected to take care of incoming Canadian-born persons for sometime to come.

NOT DISCOURAGED

Enforcement of these laws is being tightened up in response to demands from United States organized labor, but native Canadians who observe the regulations are not being discouraged from taking up residence in this country.

One Government official expressed the opinion that the Canadian Government was more qualified than the United States Government to prevent any great influx of Canadians to this country. He suggested the Canadian Government might have to resort to ironclad systems of passports for Canadians crossing the international border.

PASSPORT SYSTEM

"If Canada adopts such a system," he said, "the United States will co-operate to the extent of demanding a passport from every traveler from north of the line. It would tend to discourage migration to this country because it would require every Canadian to state why he or she was coming down here and for how long."

NATIONAL ORIGINS

Unless Congress reverses its attitude of 1924, some changes in the immigration law are due to come into force at the end of next June. These changes would make the national origin rather than birthplace the basis for the quota allocation and would permit the entry of more British-born persons than are allowed under the present quota.

MacLEAN PLANS TO PRESS FOR NORTHERN LAND

prepared immediately so that it may go before the commissioner at the Ottawa sitting. The Province will be represented by counsel in Ottawa, as at the commission's previous hearing in Victoria.

NOT TIME TO TALK

Meanwhile the Premier has little to say about the P.E. question. Now, he indicated on his return to the Parliament Buildings is not the time to discuss the matter. He admitted, however, that the railway situation had been carefully considered in Ottawa during his recent visit.

"All I can say at this time," he added, "is that I am not discouraged."

HOPES FOR LEGISLATION

Referring to other matters before the Interprovincial Conference, Dr. MacLean said he was hopeful that legislation abolishing private liquor importation and aimed at bootlegging in British Columbia, would be ratified by the Senate after approval by the House of Commons at its next session.

SENATE REFORM URGED

In this connection he revealed the star which he took on Senate reform at the Conference, a matter about which official summaries of the proceedings did not indicate his views. The Premier said he had strongly favored Senate reform by the appointment of Senators for a period of ten years with a provision for reappointment if this were considered desirable. He did not support the idea of an elective Senate, but urged strongly that the Upper Chamber's veto powers be curtailed, in line with the practice governing the British House of Lords. He suggested that legislation should become law after being passed three times by the Commons, regardless of the Senate's veto.

BAYER

ASPIRIN

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in an Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Aspirin;
it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trademark.

HEAVY STORM LOSSES IN EASTERN CANADA

siderable distance in the village of Malbaie and between Ste. Agathe and Cap's Point.

Sherbrooke, Que., Nov. 18.—As a consequence of the downpour of rain since midnight on Tuesday last, measuring slightly over an inch and three-quarters, considerable anxiety is felt throughout the Eastern Townships of Quebec province as residents of the different localities watch with alarm the waters of the rivers rising gradually. In some districts the waters cover the roads in low places.

However, while the rivers have risen to a certain extent, it is hardly believed there will be any serious consequence unless the rain continues heavily. While it was still drizzling this morning, a decided drop in temperature indicated wintry weather, which would relieve the situation.

Reports state the roads are covered with water at Eastmain and Westford, although they are not impassable.

BRIDGE CARRIED AWAY
Both the Quebec Central and C.P.R. officials report their services have not been interrupted, nor do they expect any trouble, but the C.N.R. has suspended its Sherbrooke-Quebec service owing to a temporary bridge near Kingsley being weakened by high waters.

RIVER UP A FOOT

In the Magog division the water is still high. It is estimated that as a result of the late rainfall that river has risen about a foot, while in the St. Francis River, a rise of two or three feet is reported. The river level, however, had fallen to such an extent after the previous flood that it could easily absorb additional water.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Telegraph and telephone communication in the eastern stretches of Ontario was in a badly disrupted condition this morning following a heavy sleet and rainstorm which swept in from the southwest last night.

Emergency gangs of workmen labored throughout the night in an effort to repair the broken wires, torn down when nearly 400 poles were borne to the ground by the weight of the sleet and fast freezing rain. Facilities were only slowly approaching normal to-day, however, and in some districts it was not expected the damage would be fully repaired before next week.

On the Bell Telephone Company's lines the greatest storm ravages were felt between Smith's Falls and Perth, where 150 poles crashed.

The same tale of telephone wire devastation was recorded at half a dozen other points within a 150-mile radius of Ottawa.

IN LAKE REGION

Reports to the local telephone offices here were that approximately thirty-five poles had been torn from their foundations between Toronto and Peterboro.

Climaxing a chilling rainstorm which had held the capital and the surrounding valley in its grip for three days, the cold wave set in soon after 9 o'clock last night. The sleet and rain, with a driving wind, broke over the country.

New York, Nov. 18.—A rainstorm left in its wake to-day a deathlist of at least six persons and a string of damaged cities, towns and villages extending from Washington to the Canadian border.

High winds and rains that caused serious damage and the loss of one life in Washington and threatened a new flood in New England, hit the metropolitan district of New York, upper New York State and some parts of Pennsylvania with unusual severity.

Slippery roads and a heavy mist were responsible for the deaths of three persons who were drowned near Syracuse when their car plunged down a thirty-foot embankment into a canal. A motorist was killed by a train on a grade crossing at Hawthorne, N.J., when rain obscured his vision, and another man was drowned near Salamanca, N.Y., when a ferry boat was swept from its moorings.

Thirty-five men were at work on the ship, and police had reports of a large number of injured.

Witnesses told of seeing pieces of the ship falling in every direction.

The Luckenbach was an oil-burning freighter which went on rocks near Costa Rica some time ago and was towed here for scrapping.

From a hospital operating table where he awaited treatment for his injuries, Raymond Carson said the blast had shaken the ship "like a terrier shakes a rat."

"From the way the boat rocked, I don't see how any of us got away," Carson said.

"I was working amidstships with an acetylene torch, preparing to cut loose some stuff," said Carson, "when something happened. I don't know what it was. There was a big roar and I was thrown to the deck."

"Whatever it was, it cut loose down in the bunkers beneath me."

First examination at the Baltimore hospital revealed Carson had a fracture of the neck.

All of those injured were thrown from twenty-five to thirty feet by the blast.

From the awning deck of the freighter a piece of steel eighteen by twelve feet was hurled to the deck of the steamship Columbia nearby. Workmen on board the Columbia were showered with wreckage, but none received serious injuries.

The Jacob Luckenbach, rated at 6,570 tons, was built at Sparrows Point in 1910.

Colwood

Colwood, Nov. 17.—The executive committee of the Esquimaux Rural Nursing Service held their monthly meeting at "Nightingale," the home of the nurse in charge, on Wednesday evening. Accounts were considered and passed for payment and necessary purchases authorized.

A programme for the current year was drawn up for presentation to the council at their quarterly meeting which will be called for Wednesday, December 7 in the Colwood Hall. If the programme is approved by the council the year will be one of marked progress for the service.

On Friday, December 9, the Prince Edward Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold a dance in the Colwood Hall at which tombola prizes will again be a special feature. The last dance held by the branch proved an unqualified success and a capable committee has been appointed to take charge of arrangements for the coming event. The ladies' auxiliary to the branch will take charge of supper arrangements.

THE SALMON TREATY

PROBABLY A TREATY WILL BE ENTERED INTO BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES LOOKING TO THE RESTORATION OF THE SOCKEY SALMON RUN TO THE FRASER RIVER. At last it is being realized by fishing and packing interests in the State of Washington that nothing short of drastic action will safeguard their investments; but there are factors associated with any proposal for joint action which will require very careful consideration by the Canadian authorities.

While our readers are fairly familiar with the history of this important question, since warnings of the coming depletion of the sockeye run frequently have been issued during the last ten years, some of the circumstances may not be as clearly understood. It should be noted primarily that practically all of the fish caught by fishermen in Puget Sound are fish which come from the spawning areas of the Fraser River and that the methods of fishing permitted in the State of Washington have had a great deal to do with the diminution of the salmon run.

Canada, of course, always has been ready to enter into an agreement with the neighboring republic on this subject, but the fishing interests of the State of Washington have endeavored to dictate the terms to Washington, and the Dominion Government at Ottawa, quite naturally, will negotiate only with the United States Government. This always has produced a deadlock and nothing effective has been done. But a change of heart seems to have come over the Puget Sound packing interests—up to a point—and it is being realized by them that something must be done at once if heavy financial losses to themselves are to be avoided. The following resolution passed by the American Fisheries Society at Hartford, Connecticut, last August may be noted:

Whereas, the great need for protection of the Salmon fisheries in boundary waters between the State of Washington and the Province of British Columbia has been well demonstrated; and
Whereas past experience has shown that state and provincial governments involved are unable to handle this matter in a satisfactory manner;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the American Fisheries Society hereby goes on record as favoring a treaty between the United States and Canada for joint control of the salmon fisheries of the boundary waters of Washington and British Columbia.

So far so good; but the fly in the ointment is that the packing interests in Puget Sound do not want any agreement made that will bind them in their method of fishing after the conclusion of any term during which the Fraser would be closed. Our own fishing interests naturally object to the closing of the river or any other expedients unless they shall have guarantees that at the termination of the arrangement they will share equally in the quantity of fish taken. The proposal from canners in Puget Sound has been that they should have ninety-two per cent. of the fish, while Canada should be satisfied with eight per cent.

This is absurd. Canada has had the lean end of the catch long enough. The fish are spawned in Canadian territory, Canadian people pay for the maintenance of hatcheries, while our neighbors have been taking ninety per cent. of the returns for years. The Dominion Government is in a position to demand a more equal arrangement and it should stand its ground.

MR. TWIGG CORRECTS DR. TOLMIE

MR. H. D. TWIGG TOLD THE CONSERVATIVES OF WARD FIVE LAST NIGHT THAT "ANY PROSPERITY THAT THERE WAS IN THIS PROVINCE WAS MORE THE RESULT OF THE DETERMINED ACTION OF THE RESIDENTS OF THE PROVINCE THAN OF ANYTHING 'THIS MISERABLE GOVERNMENT' HAD DONE TO AID IT."

Are we to infer from this outburst from the Victoria member that he is rather annoyed Dr. Tolmie should have gone so far the other day as to doubt the existence of prosperous conditions in British Columbia? It will be recalled that the Conservative leader expressed the view that the good times to which Premier MacLean and other prominent Canadians often have referred recently looked to him something like a back wash.

We did not expect Mr. Twigg to give the present Government credit for anything. But he is putting Dr. Tolmie right on one point when he implies that there is a prosperous condition in this Province. The Conservative leader has told us several times that the policies of the MacLean Government are driving capital away and doing all sorts of dire things.

The truth of the matter is, of course, the Conservatives are beginning to see how foolish it is to say that we are virtually on the road to ruin when all the newspapers every day contain ample evidence to the contrary. They are compelled to cling to this broken reed, however, because they have no policies to talk about.

THE FARMERS AND MR. HOOVER

IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT WIDE publicity has been given to a statement recently made by Dr. Harry Garfield, chairman of the committee which fixed the price of wheat in the United States in 1917, to the effect that Mr. Herbert Hoover was not the influence behind the decision which set $2.20 per bushel as the figure, the farmers in attendance at the annual convention of the National Farmers' Union at Des Moines yesterday affirmed their belief that the Secretary of Commerce still is their "arch enemy."

Supporters of Mr. Hoover for the Republican candidature in next year's presidential election recently became alarmed because the wheat belt still clung to the belief that the Secretary of Commerce had not played fair with the agriculturists in 1917, and in an effort to clear up the matter, as it thought, once and for all, The Kansas City Star wrote to Dr. Garfield and asked him to give it the facts of the case, suggesting that he would be serving the public by so doing. He replied in part as follows:

As chairman of the commission appointed by President Wilson to determine the price of wheat for the 1917 crop, I have carefully preserved the data upon which the findings of the commission were based. I am the more willing to reply to your letter in view of the persistent misstatement that Secretary Hoover determined the price. Mr. Hoover had absolutely no part in the matter other than to urge upon President Wilson that some action must be taken to protect the American farmer.

The occasion for the determination of a fair price arose from the fact that the Allied governments had consolidated their buying agencies into one hand, and through this buying power over the surplus, controlled the price of American wheat the moment that exports of the new crop should begin. The Allied buying agencies considered that they should not pay more than $1.50 to $1.80 for American wheat.

It was solely to protect the American farmers from this situation that Mr. Hoover presented to President Wilson the necessity for some action. President Wilson appointed the commission, directly under himself, to determine the matter, and the commission unanimously determined $2.20 at Chicago as a fair price.

The publication of this letter is interpreted by many newspapers in the republic as proof that Mr. Hoover's name will have to be reckoned with in the nomination race. But, if yesterday's resolution passed at Des Moines, which charges the Secretary of Commerce with robbing the farmers of "at least a dollar a bushel" on their wheat, both in 1917 and in 1918, reflects the solid opinion of the wheat belt, the course taken by The Kansas City Star does not seem to have accomplished its object.

A SIGNIFICANT CONCESSION

IN A DISPATCH FROM LONDON TODAY we are informed that "authoritative officials" declare "the best answer to Viscount Cecil's attack in the House of Lords on the British Government's attitude towards disarmament was in the announcement of Right Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, in the House of Commons at the same hour, that only one of the three cruisers of the 1927 programme will be started at the present time."

We have no indication as to the identity of the "authoritative officials," nor is the point of special concern to the people of Canada; but the suggestion no doubt will strike even the most disinterested or impartial observer as a very lame one indeed. The members of the Baldwin Government, of course, were fully aware that Viscount Cecil was going to attack the Cabinet's attitude towards disarmament in the House of Lords; they also are quite familiar with what he has said about the Geneva Conference and what he considers caused it to fail as far as Great Britain was concerned—he already has delivered two of his series of addresses on the subject—consequently it would seem reasonable to assume that Mr. Bridgeman's announcement was not altogether unconnected with the impression which Viscount Cecil and a large and influential section of the British press have made upon the public mind.

Whatever may have influenced its action, the British Government is to be congratulated upon its decision to postpone the building of two cruisers that had been authorized by the 1927 programme. It will be some relief to the taxpayer. It will very likely meet with sympathetic reaction in the United States. It will at least strengthen the hand of Mr. Baldwin when he comes to grips with the many problems which are of vital and immediate concern to British industry under various heads.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

BRONZE HORSES OF ST. MARKS at Venice, Italy, are among the most interesting bits of statuary in the world. Originally placed on Nero's triumphal arch at Rome, they were brought to Venice from Constantinople in 1204. Later Napoleon Bonaparte carried them off to Paris, but they were restored to their pedestals after the Battle of Waterloo. During the World War, they were taken down and placed in a stable for greater safety.

DO YOU KNOW—

That safety pins—crude hand made affairs—were used by the Romans long before the Christian Era. It now takes 5,700,000 tons of brass to manufacture the billion or more of these indispensable articles used in America annually.

PREMIER KING ADDRESSES WOMEN

Tells Ottawa Canadian Club of Dominion's History

Montreal, Nov. 18.—The History of Yesterday was Premier King's subject in his address to the Women's Canadian Club here yesterday. The Prime Minister emphasized "The importance of a new consciousness of our country's story."

Mr. King doubted if many Canadians fully comprehended the rapidity of events in the history of Canada, while Confederation was sixty years old, Canada as a Dominion stretching from sea to sea was but twenty-two years old. "I doubt if any country in the world affords the same advantages," said Mr. King, referring to the availability of original sources of history.

In dealing with the preliminary moves which led to Confederation the Prime Minister said that in 1864 the provinces by the sea had met in conference to discuss the possibilities of creating a single province. "Personally, I think it would be a good thing if they could repeat that thought today and let us have one large province instead of three," said the Prime Minister.

Mentioning Quebec's part in the nation's history, Mr. King drew attention to Sir Robert Borden's emphasis on the importance of the province's loyalty at the time of the American revolution. Had not Quebec been friendly and loyal to the British Crown, Canada might have gone the way of the other British colonies of that time.

Concluding, Mr. King said that the visit this summer of Premier Baldwin and the Prince of Wales "had greater significance than any of us comprehend." Sixty years ago our delegates had gone to Great Britain to have an act of Parliament passed. "This year we have come to Canada for the first time in the history of any Dominion."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, November 18, 1902.

The most important business dealt with at last night's meeting of the City Council was Alderman Barnard's Sewer Rental By-law. This was advanced as far as possible last night and, according to the regulations governing such matters, had to be left over for final passing.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Fresh to strong southerly winds, increasing to gales along the coast, unsettled and mild, with rain. Workmen are engaged putting in a concrete platform at the gap left in the retaining wall on Belleville Street. This will be brought up level with the wall along the waterfront, and will be connected by a flight of steps with the street above.

The fourth game of the intermediate league series will be played this evening between the J.B.A.A. and Victoria West team.

OTTAWA INQUIRY

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Certain charges made by Richard A. McClymont concerning the administration of the Interior Department will be the subject of an inquiry to be conducted by Alex Smith, barrister of this city. During the campaign of 1925, Mr. McClymont wrote letters to the press attacking a number of ideas for the improvement of the service, and incidentally reflecting on the administration of the department. He was formerly employed in the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the department, but is no longer in the Government service.

CLARA BOW PLAYS IN FILM "WINE" AT
COLISEUM THEATRE

A real good show is the comment of patrons leaving the Coliseum each night this week. The Ray Bell Stock Company is presenting real good, clean three-act comedy-dramas.

The play this week is entitled "The Girl in the Case," which is a mystery story by Robert Sherman. This play is packed full of comedy situations from start to finish, as well as many exciting moments that keep the audience in expectation. Ray Bell, the producer and comedian, has a long part that furnishes the bulk of the comedy, and he plays it exceedingly well. Each and every one of the actors have parts that allow them to show the very best that is in them, at all times throughout this remarkable three-act comedy-drama.

On the screen is Clara Bow in "Wine."

Wealth did not bring happiness to the aristocratic family of the distinguished house of Warriner. To maintain their social standing, the head of the house entered into a business alliance with an international ring of bootleggers, but in the end had only great unhappiness. The story is vividly told in "Wine." The all-star cast

"HILLS OF KENTUCKY"
STARS FAMOUS DOG
ACTOR, RIN-TIN-TIN

Forty motion picture extras were treated to a novel experience when the motor bus in which they were traveling from Kern River in northern California to Hollywood at the completion of location scenes for Warner Bros. production of "Hills of Kentucky," starring Rin-Tin-Tin, became lost in the Mojave desert.

From 3 o'clock in the afternoon to the next morning, the huge vehicle floundered about on seldom-used roads, through deserted mining towns, among the tall Joshua trees and other desert plants. They were finally picked up near the main road by one of the small service cars of the company that had been sent to search for them.

The passengers were nearly frozen, for, although during the day the heat is great, the nights are extremely cold. Added to the unique outdoor settings, "Hills of Kentucky" has a gripping story. Beside the star, Rin-Tin-Tin, the cast includes Jason Robards, Dorothy Dwan, Tom Santschi, Billy Kent Schaefer, Nanette and Rin-Tin-Tin. This picture is now showing at the Columbia.

SCENES OF CAPITOL
FILM LAID DURING
TIME OF NAPOLEON

Said to be one of the most thrilling romantic photoplays in which Rod La Rocque, popular De Mille star, has been seen in many months, "The Fighting Eagle," a screen version of Conan Doyle's novel, "The Adventures of Gerard," will be on view at the Capitol Theatre all this week. The scenes are laid in France during the romantic reign of Emperor Napoleon, and Mr. La Rocque is seen as a swash-buckling French officer who is a boaster, but who nevertheless is a man of action whom all alike admire. There is a strong love story and many dramatic scenes are developed in the action. Phyllis Haver plays opposite the star, Julia Faye, Sally Rand and Sam De Grasse are seen in featured roles. The picture was directed by Donald Crisp.

On the stage at the Capitol this week in addition to the regular picture, are "Curry and Alexander," "The Goofy Steppers," whose offering of novel dance steps is excellent both in execution and novelty. Albert MacGillivray, hailed as "The Caruso of the Air," will be found exceptionally good, and his rendering of a specialty programme is both masterful and artistic. The third presentation introduces a very clever child dancer in the form of Miss Gaby Marshall.

DOROTHY GISH HAS
SCINTILLATING ROLE IN DOMINION FILM

"Madame Pompadour," fourth of the British National Pictures to be released in the United States by Paramount, will head the programme at the Dominion Theatre all this week. As in the preceding three, "Nell Gwynn," "The Sign of the Cross" and "Scintillating Dorothy," Gish is the star. Antonio Moreno plays the featured romantic male role. Frances Marion prepared the scenario from which Director Herbert Wilcox and Supervisor E. A. Dupont worked.

CONRAD'S STYLE WAS INFLUENCED BY SAILOR YARNS

Association With Seamen Gave Color to Stories of Famous Novelist

Prof. F. C. Walker Gives Address Before University Extension Association

The style of Conrad's writing was greatly influenced by that writer's knowledge of the manner in which sailors "swapped yarns," stated Prof. F. C. Walker, A.M., Ph.D., in his lecture on "Joseph Conrad," given at the Victoria College last night under the auspices of the University Extension Association.

The speaker opened his address by sketching the life of the writer. Joseph Conrad Korzeniowski was born in 1857, the son of an aristocratic Polish family. He left school at the age of sixteen, and against the advice of his parents, went to sea. After serving four years aboard foreign ships, he joined a British crew, and in six years had worked his way from the captain's board ship, he commenced his literary work, and in 1894, the year in which he left the sea, his first book, "Alder's Folly," was published. Since that time he has produced about fourteen novels, six books of short stories and two of reminiscences, the lecturer said.

His life at sea reflects itself in all his writing. Listening to sailors' yarns developed in his work a complexity of detail which suggests to his readers that he has actually met his characters. The "gossipy" way in which he tells his stories is also largely due to his association with seamen. And although we realize that his heroes are to a certain extent fictitious, we feel that they are all based upon some acquaintance of the author.

Dr. Walker said the romance in Conrad's work was similar to that of Coleridge in that both these men were fond of portraying unusual scenes and unusual circumstances. And so, said the lecturer, we see the action of his novels taking place in such places as the Malay states, and under unusual circumstances. And always, in the background, is the sea. But no matter how bizarre the theme, Conrad always portrayed real, and generally simple people. He was something like Wordsworth in this characteristic. Prof. Walker said. In showing the reality of his characters, the speaker cited the instance of the conventional Englishman, in "Rescue," who when the hands of bloodthirsty brigands, was greatly vexed because he had no razor.

ATMOSPHERE

The lecturer pointed out one of Conrad's devices for producing the right atmosphere in his works by making his characters in sympathy with the thought of the story. Citing an extract from "Victory," Prof. Walker showed how a description of glowing skies suggested an impending disaster. In several other instances it was shown how the moods of nature were made to coincide with the action of the story. By means of these, and other quotations, the speaker also showed Conrad's genius for description.

In speaking of the writer's treatment of action, which, he said, was sometimes very violent, Prof. Walker stated that Conrad portrayed the feelings of those participating in it, rather than giving an impersonal description of the deeds. In proof of this, the speaker read extracts, such as the description of the hurricane from "Typhoon," where in place of a photographic picture of the storm the writer gives the sentiments of a character, who felt like "a man on whom most of the China Sea had fallen."

Perhaps the greatest aid in the sustaining of interest in Conrad's stories is his use of the element of suspense. The writer works up to a climax, and keeps his reader from the actual happenings by inserting small details into his story.

PLOT DEVELOPMENT
Dr. Walker dealt at some length with Conrad's plot development in his tragedies, showing the similarity between some of that author's heroes and Shakespeare's "Hamlet" by portraying men who were failures because of some flaw in their characters. He illustrated this point by citing the case of "Lord Jim," a tragic figure who was always intending to do some great deed in the future, but who was not, essentially, a man of action. Prof. Walker said that Walpole, in criticizing Conrad's lack of trust in "men of too much thought," suggested that the Pole's acquaintance with the inactive intelligentsia of Poland did not compare favorably to his association with the unthinking but active British seamen.

The lecturer then spoke of Conrad's treatment of man's love for women. In some cases, he said, the writer depicted this passion as a fierce one, and at other times as a much calmer feeling, but in a great many instances, love of the sea and ships supplanted man's affection for the opposite sex.

The speaker portrayed many of the writer's heroines. In this department, he said, Conrad was very skilful, and seemed to know a great deal about women. Although all his leading ladies and most of his minor female characters are very fine and lovable women, he occasionally has his cynical character, Marlowe, speak ill of some of them, as he does in describing Mrs. Davidson, as "a woman with a heart the size of a parched pea."

Dr. Walker closed his lecture by commenting on Conrad's style, saying that, despite an occasional colloquialism and imperfect idiom he is one of the great masters of English prose. He also praised the writer's ability as a compiler of phrases, and commended his humor.

The chairman, C. C. Fuller, thanked the lecturer for his address, and announced that the next lecture, on "China," would be given by Dean Brock at Victoria College, on December 1.

New Tenant—Is it true that this house is haunted?
Caretaker—Oh, no, sir, it's all been thoroughly disinfected.

Bunty was told at school that Nelson "did not know what fear meant."
"Silly man!" she said; "why didn't he ask someone?"

Forgave Husband
Twenty-five Times

Baltimore, Nov. 18.—Having taken her husband back twenty-five times after their separations, Mrs. Dorothy L. Engelhardt testified today in court that she no longer wants a reconciliation with Joseph X. Engelhardt, against whom she filed suit for divorce.

Mrs. Engelhardt charged her husband with desertion and cruelty, and testified that when she went to Columbus, Ohio, some time ago to see him she discovered he was posing as a single man.

The wife asserted that during the twelve years she had been married her parents had been obliged to give her help about ten of those years. She said that her husband sometimes accused her of going with other men when she would return home late after working overtime to help support their four children.

Photographers to Use New Aeroplane

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—If tests to be conducted by officials of the Royal Canadian Air Force at a plant in Montreal next week are successful, Canada will have won an international aviation race to build the first efficient photographic aeroplane, it is stated by Royal Air Force officials here.

Modern aeroplane types are not ideally designed for aerial photography, and for some time Great Britain, the United States and other nations have been experimenting with specially adapted planes in work of this kind. Pioneer work at the big aeroplane factory at Montreal has actually completed the construction of the Velox, a machine which will answer all the requirements and place Canada far in the lead in this branch of aviation. Technical experts believe the plane will save the Dominion thousands of dollars annually in aerial survey and general photographic work.

SOCIAL PERSONAL WOMEN'S AFFAIRS CLUB AND NEWS

ANNUAL SHOWER AT JUBILEE HOSPITAL VERY SUCCESSFUL

Generous Friends Gave 635 Articles and $39.50 in Cash Yesterday

Chosen as near to Thanksgiving Day as possible to give expression to the spirit of the day, yet of necessity postponed for a few days in order not to conflict with other deserving causes arranged for last week, the annual linen shower was held yesterday afternoon at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, when some hundreds of visitors called at the Nurses' Home and left their gifts of cash and kind.

The affair was arranged as usual by the Women's Auxiliary, and had the guests, while Mrs. J. J. Collison and Mrs. H. J. Pendray resided at the seat of customs, and Miss Lettice, Mrs. R. G. Robertson, Mrs. Connon, Mrs. R. G. Green, Mrs. Ford Verrinder, Mrs. E. H. Griffiths and Mrs. J. E. Umbach received the gifts of linen.

The Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.E., supplied the musical program, Mrs. D. B. McConnon acting as convener, assisted by Mrs. D. E. Campbell, Miss Dorothy Morton and Miss Gwen Harper contributed piano solos, and Mrs. McConnon, Miss Merle North and Miss Helen Starr, vocal selections, which were much enjoyed by the many callers.

A delicious tea was served in the nurses' recreation room, which was gay with flowers, bronze chrysantheums predominating. Those in charge of the tea arrangements were Mrs. H. Shandley, Mrs. Phibbs and Mrs. A. McConnon, assisted by Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Mrs. H. O. S. Heisterman, Miss Currie, Mrs. Brown and members of the Junior W.A. branch.

"AFTER MY AUTO ACCIDENT—"

A New Record for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
A resident of Toronto, Canada, writes:

"Last April I met with a serious automobile accident, breaking my left knee and tearing the tendons badly. Having lived a very active life before, when forced to lie still, constipation soon made its appearance. Drugs and medicines proved useless, and I could not obtain relief until I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. The difference was noticeable almost at once, and from then on, during my entire convalescence, ALL-BRAN kept me in perfect condition. Though I am now over 60 years of age, my physician tells me that I have made the recovery of a 25-year-old man."

Many people who suffer from constipation during the enforced inactivity following illness, or while engaged in sedentary work and study, would find rapid and permanent relief in the regular use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to conquer constipation. Eat not less than two tablespoons every morning, and that amount at every meal if the case is chronic. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious with honey and milk or cream. Sold at all grocers.

Made in London, Canada.

CUSTOMS EXACT BIG FINE FROM WIDOW

$57,000 Taken at New York For Undeclared Clothes and Jewels

New York, Nov. 18.—A tipster's tell-tale whisper in the ear of a Treasury Department agent cost the widow and two daughters of Adolphus Busch, St. Louis brewer, a $57,000 fine yesterday. The fine was for bringing undeclared clothing and jewelry into the country.

The women had made arrangements to be rushed through the customs without baggage inspection because of the illness of the eighty-five-year-old widow.

The mother and her daughters, Mrs. Charles Greenough of New York and Mrs. Nellie B. Loeb of Chicago, returned from Germany on the liner George Washington, which docked November 4. Before the ship reached anchorage they received permission to have their debarcation expedited from Arthur P. Foran, controller of the port and a Republican leader in New Jersey.

In accordance with the order Mrs. Busch was carried from the ship as soon as it docked in a wheel chair, and permitted to go at once to a hotel. The daughters were about to follow her when an agent of the Treasury Department stopped them.

Instead of being allowed to leave the dock at once, with their thirty-four pieces of luggage, the younger women were searched by women inspectors and their baggage thoroughly examined. Nothing was found on their persons, but so many undeclared articles were discovered in bags and trunks that all their possessions were seized and sent to the appraiser's store for valuation.

The next day the daughters were informed of the amount of the fine, which was computed by doubling the domestic value of the contraband, and they paid it and recovered their baggage.

Although little definite information could be gleaned concerning the manner in which the names of Mrs. Busch and her daughters happened to get on the Treasury Department suspect list, it was reported on good authority that a traveler returning ahead of them had been the informant. The tipster will be eligible for a reward of $14,000, and his or her identity will not be revealed by the officials.

Wife: "Something must be done, dear; the motels are eating up my living-room furniture." Husband (absent): "I'll speak to them in the morning."

POLICEMAN HAD PRETTIEST ANKLES

Newry, County Dorn, Ireland, Nov. 18.—Newry "cops" wear superior smiles to-day. At a big masquerade at the town hall a prize was awarded to the owner of the neatest pair of ankles displayed beneath the fancy dresses. When the dainty footed colleen who took the prize was unmasked, "she" turned out to be a Newry policeman.

The BLUE CAR MYSTERY

By NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN

After drawing the marks she traced them over and over until they were firmly fixed in her mind. Looking about for a place to put the paper, she found her head bag and opening it, hastily thrust the paper inside and put the bag into the top drawer of her bureau. A sponge, hot water and towel quickly removed all marks from the mirror and Harriet, finally satisfied that it was once more entirely clean, went into her brother's bedroom. John Whitney greeted her appearance with an exclamation of joy. "Sit down by me, sis." He patted her hand clasping his. "That wrapper is mighty becoming to you, dear." "Wrapper indeed?" she kissed him warmly. "Imagine calling a silk quilted dressing gown with maribou fur a wrapper. John, you promised me not to read in bed," catching sight of a book partly tucked under the bedclothes. "Well, sis, you were right long coming," he protested. "And I got kind of twitchy lying here after Rudy Ruggles left." "Ah, was he here?" "Yes," John played with the tassels of Harriet's dressing gown. "Do you know, sis, in spite of his mother, I like him." "He seems to be very nice," was Harriet's noncommittal reply. "What did you talk about? The disappearance of the one hundred thousand dollar bonds?" "No," John was not looking at his sister; he had tied the tassels into intricate bowknots and was striving to untangle them. Swiftly he changed the subject. "He's a silent sort of chap. I did most of the talking." "And what did you chat about?" "Oh, we mentioned you," with teasing smile. "And dad, and how devilish hard it is to be poor." Harriet took his hand and stroked it gently. "Thanks to Uncle Jim's generosity we are not poor any longer," she said. "So Ruggles pointed out." "Oh," Harriet rose abruptly. "I'm going to put out your light, John; no more reading to-night, if you love me." "All right," and with a parting hug, Harriet left him. She was almost at her bedroom door surprise as she was about to enter her room. Had John gone in there after she left him? Crossing the hall, she opened the study door and walked in. The man seated before her uncle's desk did not look up and Harriet, surprised depriving her of speech, remained staring blankly at the chauffeur. Mose continued to read the page before him with absorbed attention, turning them slowly and snapping his fingers as he conned the text, his lips moving silently every now and then.

"Mose!" The chauffeur's hands closed swiftly over the manuscript he was reading and his head flew back as Harriet pronounced his name; otherwise he evinced no astonishment at sight of the young girl.

"Yes, Miss Whitney." Slowly he got to his feet and stood respectfully before her.

"What are you doing here, Mose?" she asked, angry with herself for a faint tremor which shook her voice; it was absurd to be afraid, and yet, and yet—she wished most heartily that she had not walked into the study. "Mr. Ruggles left word that he wished to see me, and Anna told me to go here," explained the chauffeur. "I'm sorry, miss, if I startled you."

Formation of a Military Institute for Victoria and Vancouver Island is contemplated. It will provide a forum for the discussion and review of military affairs, and it will give an opportunity for officers to meet again and talk over the battles of days long gone. When the institute is in full running order it is proposed to hold frequent meetings during the winter months, at which it is proposed to have addresses on different topics of general interest. A Military Institute would mean a small contribution each year from members. It is thought that the Federal Government through its National Defence Department would contribute in a degree to a Military Institute for Victoria and Vancouver Island should be formed. A general meeting of the officers of the Active, Reserves and Retired lists of Victoria and Vancouver Island militia will be called shortly.

ENGINEER WINS ON CLAIM FOR SALARY

Sues Vancouver Company For Wrongful Dismissal

Assessment of damages claimed to be due by Edgar A. Jamieson, engineer, 2190 West Thirty-fifth Street, Point Grey, from the Combustion Engineering Company, Credit Foncier Building, Vancouver, for wrongful dismissal, was sought from Mr. Justice Gregory in the Supreme Court this morning. An interlocutory judgment in favor of plaintiff had already been given.

F. C. Elliott appeared for plaintiff, who claimed he joined the company on a five-year contract at $5,000 a year as a five-year manager of the company in April, 1925. He was only employed by May 18, 1927. His loss of salary from May 18, 1927, to April 30, 1930, when his services with the company would have terminated under the contract, was $15,000.

Damages of $4,583.33, the balance of a year's salary from time plaintiff left the company's employment, were awarded.

SPEED DRIVER IS FINED $100

C. P. Renouff was fined $100 by Magistrate Jay in city police court this morning when charged with driving to the common danger through "the Dardanelles" and down Pandora Avenue. Motorcycle Constable William Richards told His Honor the circumstances of the case. Renouff, he said, when he followed him, increased his speed, finally skidded on the wet road and crashed into a telephone pole at the Rockland and Pandora Avenue intersection.

LAST "AT HOME" TO BE HELD TO-NIGHT

Shelly's Bakery on Prior St. to Receive Visitors For the Last Time

This evening will see the last "at home" of Shelly's bakery plant when it is expected that a large number of Victorians will avail themselves of this final opportunity to see a modern bakery in operation.

Last evening 3,000 people were taken over the plant and this evening plans are being made to receive an even greater crowd. The first evening 600 persons visited the large establishment on Prior Street, and on Wednesday evening there was an attendance of more than 2,500 persons, making the total for the three evenings in the neighborhood of 6,500 persons. After this evening it is expected that nearly 10,000 persons will have visited the plant during the four days.

This "open house" has proved a magnet for many in the city who wished to see the way in which a modern housewife has her week's baking done. From the time when flour arrives at the plant in sacks until it is put into the baker's cart ready to be left at the customer's door everything is handled with utmost regard to cleanliness. Only once in all the process of baking, the dough handled by the hands, and this only for a few seconds when it is being put into the baking tins.

The visitors are taken over the building in groups of twenty and thirty and everything of interest is explained to them as they go along, by one of the experienced bakery hands. Samples of Shelly's bread are given out to each visitor as he or she leaves the main building to visit the stables to see how the fifteen fine delivery horses are housed.

Visiting hours at the plant this evening will be the same as the other three nights, from 7 until 9 o'clock.

DECLARES SAANICH ATTITUDE UNFAIR

Tourist Trade Group Considers Tax Jump on Auto Camp Excessive

While the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce is fighting to keep the Curtis Point Auto Camp off the financial rocks, Saanich has increased the taxes on the six acres of camp land from about $500 to approximately $600 in a year. This fact was made known at the meeting of the tourist trade group to-day and Walter Hubb, one of its members, was critical of the Saanich policy when he described it as a "dog-in-the-manger attitude." The expressions of disapproval over Saanich tax increases were vehement from other members of the group.

A report of a special investigation committee which has been inquiring into the financial condition of the camp, showed that three and a half cents per tourist for two days was the cost of operation to the camp operators. The city paid about $500 a year of such cost and the cash benefits derived from visitors there was around $100,000 a year.

The report contained certain recommendations—one, that cabins be built and a fair rate of rental be charged for them and that a proper sewage system be established.

D. D. Campbell moved that the report be received and adopted and later Alderman P. R. Brown suggested that it be put into the hands of the camp trustees, who would make a still further investigation and report fully on their findings. This report, it is understood, will go to the City Council with the recommendations.

FIVE NAMED IN TRUSTEE POLLING

J. S. McMillan Adds Name to List of Candidates For School Board

J. S. McMillan, secretary of the Island Arts and Crafts Club, announced to-day his candidature for school trustee in the December civic polls. Mr. McMillan was runner-up in the elections of 1925 for the same office, and has decided to offer himself again.

In announcing his candidature Mr. McMillan stated he will compete for the fourth seat, being of the belief that the remaining members of the board, who are to run again, are entitled to their seats. He has been twenty-one years resident in the city, and has devoted considerable time to technical education.

The entry of the fifth candidate into the school trustees division of the forthcoming elections ensures a contest in that division, five candidates being spokes of for four seats. Trustees J. L. Beckwith, Alex. Peden and A. C. Pike completing the second year of two-year terms, will run again, it is anticipated. F. E. George and J. S. McMillan are the new candidates in the field for the trusteeship, both of whom contested the seat in 1926.

DELEGATES DEFEAT NEW PROHIBITION PARTY PROPOSAL

Supporters Should Exert Influence in Old Organization

The question as to the advisability of establishing an independent prohibition party was keenly, but good-naturedly debated at the Prohibition Convention held in Vancouver this week, reports Thomas Humphries, one of the Victoria delegates, who returned home yesterday.

Some of those taking part in the discussion claimed there was little to hope from either of the major parties in British Columbia. Others maintained that those favoring prohibition should exert their influence in the local party organizations and endeavor to bring out candidates in both parties favorable to the enactment of a prohibitory law. When the vote was taken it was overwhelmingly against forming a new political party.

The address of Dr. Clarke of Portland, Oregon, in which he traced the history of the prohibition movement in the United States was considered to be one of the ablest and most convincing of any ever given in British Columbia on that subject. Incidentally the speaker referred to the statement frequently made by the supporters of the drinking traffic, that the conditions in Seattle under a prohibitory law were deplorable, whereas those in Vancouver under Government control were pictures of perfection.

In counting the ballots will be made of such a size that the four may be placed one on top of the other and pinned, still leaving distinct each ballot and its intended use.

The new ballot, if used, overcomes the objection of four separate slips of paper to be handled by the voter, and still remains a distinct ballot for each division, conforming to the legislative requirements for municipal elections.

In counting the ballots will be made of such a size that the four may be placed one on top of the other and pinned, still leaving distinct each ballot and its intended use.

BEER PARLORS MUST OBSERVE BOARD'S RULES

Suspension of Interior License Indefinitely is Warning to Operators

A sharp warning to beer parlor operators was issued by the Liquor Control Board with the indefinite suspension of the beer license of the Tourist Hotel, at Bull River, to-day. This suspension of the indefinite period followed complaints that the Bull River establishment had violated the board's rules by keeping other liquor, besides beer, on its premises. Local police recommended the suspension of the license after operators of the resort had been fined in court under the Liquor Act.

SIMPLIFIED PLAN TO SPEED UP VOTING

M. F. Hunter, City Clerk, Designs New Form of Ballot

A new form of ballot, designed to simplify voting for the public, and also to speed up the work of counting the ballots for a return, has been designed by M. F. Hunter, city clerk, and may be placed in use for the December civic elections.

Each division to be voted on, normally, namely the mayoralty, council, trustees, and police commission, will have a separate ballot in individual color. The ballots will be made of such a size that the four may be placed one on top of the other and pinned, still leaving distinct each ballot and its intended use.

The new ballot, if used, overcomes the objection of four separate slips of paper to be handled by the voter, and still remains a distinct ballot for each division, conforming to the legislative requirements for municipal elections.

In counting the ballots will be made of such a size that the four may be placed one on top of the other and pinned, still leaving distinct each ballot and its intended use.

CHANGES IN OFFICE FOR CITY LANDS

New Location Will be Advocated Before Monday Council Session

A report on the choice of a new site for the operation of the city lands department will be made to the City Council on Monday, by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the city lands committee.

An office in the up town business district adjacent to residents and visitors alike is sought by the committee, which now has a recommendation to make. The committee viewed sites on Government, Yates, Douglas and Fort Streets before agreeing on recommendation.

VANCOUVER POLICE UNDER PENSION LAW

While Victoria policemen are moving to bring themselves under the provincial superannuation scheme, Vancouver policemen finally completed arrangements to-day whereby they will secure the benefits of the Superannuation Act. An agreement signed at the offices of Arthur Cox, Civil Service Commissioner, to-day provides that the Vancouver Police Department shall come under the law on January 1. About 250 policemen are affected by this agreement.

OAK BAY WISHES CAR TRACKS MOVED

Danger of Tracks on Oak Bay Avenue is Discussed By Council

Health Insurance Plan Meets With Disapproval; Court of Revision

Possibilities of obtaining the removal of street car track in Oak Bay Avenue to the middle of the street were discussed by the Oak Bay Council last night.

Councillor T. J. Goodlake introduced the matter pointing out that the position of the tracks from Foul Bay Road to the terminus constituted a menace to traffic. There were three outstanding dangers, he asserted, that to traffic turning on to Oak Bay Avenue from the north, of cars traveling westward to alighting street car passengers and at the point where the tracks crossed the street near Foul Bay Road.

The municipal engineer was appointed to interview the B.C. Electric with a view to finding out their views on the subject, and to discuss any possibilities of securing the removal of the tracks. Paving of the street would probably be necessary, it was pointed out, but whether this would be done by local improvement by the municipality was not determined.

HEALTH INSURANCE
A communication from the City of Kamloops requesting the council's endorsement of the principle of province-wide health insurance was laid over. Councillor Crease declared this was another plan for the creation of a new department, new expenditures, new officials and certainly new taxes.

Councillors Goodlake and Money as a court of revision for the voters' list.

The application of the B.C. Land and Investment Agency to the inclusion of the whole of a lot on Oak Bay Avenue next to the High School in the apartment area in the zoning by-law was met with the decision which a concrete proposal of building was offered, the council would consider the matter.

BUILDING PROPOSED
It was pointed out that there was a proposal now on foot to build an attractive apartment building on the site, which would face on Yale Street, which is not cut through in that section. Half of the lot, that facing Oak Bay Avenue is now zoned as apartment district and the other half is residential.

A grant of $25 will be made toward the School Children's Swimming Gala to be staged by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club December 9.

Steps will be taken to remove stumps on Byng Street in order that residents may more easily take their automobiles to the street, it was decided after the consideration of a request from J. H. Knight, resident at 665 Byng Street. Mr. Knight's request for a street light was met with refusal.

R. H. Shanks, who offered $250 for Lot 1, map 1129, will be advised the price on this land is $320.

The building seating arrangement by-law, which is to control seating in public places of amusement and gatherings was discussed in committee and remains in draft form.

JUNIOR CHAMBER VISITS PLANT

Industrial Section of Junior Group Have Insight Into Biscuit-making

Members of the industrial section of the Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon visited the Ormond biscuit factory, and learned many interesting facts regarding the operating details of that establishment, the most important being in connection with the machinery utilized for producing many varieties of biscuits and the methods adopted in the manufacture of quantities of fancy chocolates to meet the Christmas demand.

This is the first trip of this nature to be undertaken by Junior Chamber members, and proved to be of considerable educational value. The industrial section feel that it is a matter of importance that they become acquainted with the internal operations of the local industrial concerns, if they are going to deal intelligently with industrial matters.

After an inspection of all departments of the plant, the visitors were presented each with a handsome box of confections they had previously seen in stages of manufacture.

VOICES OPPOSITION TO WEST COAST ROAD

P. P. Harrison, M.P.P., Speaker at Courtenay Trade Board Meeting

Opposition to the expenditure called for the construction of the West Coast road was voiced by P. P. Harrison, M.P.P., in an address to the Board of Trade at Courtenay.

After congratulating the members on the keen interest they display in public matters, Mr. Harrison expressed his view on the proposed West Coast road. He was, he said, opposed to any such expenditure until the main road running north and south had been paved, as this main road was of more benefit to the Island as a whole. Regarding the Alberni-Cumberland Road which, it is said, would cost 400,000, he would hardly favor the construction of that road at such an expense, but thought the main road north to Sayward, with a bridge at Campbell River, was of first importance. He pointed out that this road should be of interest to the people of Victoria, and favored trading with Victoria as far as possible. He didn't see much prospect of hard-surfacing the road to Comox, until that road was classified as a primary highway.

CARELESS HUNTERS

Later in the evening an interesting discussion took place regarding the protection of hunters and others when in the woods. It was made very clear that the onus of protecting human life must always be on the man with a rifle in his hands, rather than making hunters and others whose business takes them into the bush provide themselves with some uniform distinctive dress.

Mr. Wood pointed out the benefits of having Strathcona Park, which at present is a park only in name, taken over by the National Parks Association. It was essential that everything possible be done to prevent this area being ruined by commercial development.

Mr. Bruce replied that as president of the Associated Boards of Trade he was in whole-hearted favor of protecting the area and would use every endeavor to do so. Mr. Buller, secretary of the Qualicum board, briefly addressed the meeting. He held the same views regarding the necessity of completing the hard-surfacing of the Island Highway as the Courtenay members. He drew attention to the next annual convention which is to be held

GOVERNMENT PAYS MANY HUNDRED OF AGED PENSIONERS

Old Age Pension Act Figures
Given by Commissioner
Parker Williams

Joshua Hinchliffe and Alderman Clearihue in Plain Talk on Act's Workings

Over 1,400 applicants under the Old Age Pensions scheme have been granted remittances in British Columbia up to the present time, according to an announcement made at the public meeting in King's Hall, Port Street, last night, by Parker Williams, commissioner of the board which administers the Act. The total of applications made reached 2,700. Mr. Williams stated. A total of between $500,000 and $600,000 was being spent in this scheme annually, the cost being shared in equal shares, he said.

FEDERAL RULES
"The Workmen's Compensation Board has had nothing to do with the rules and regulations of the Workmen's Compensation Act," said Mr. Williams. The rules were set down by the Federal Government. He did not wish, nor was he in a position to criticize these rules. He did not wish to attempt to explain or justify some of these rules with which he himself did not altogether agree.

Labor had been demanding legislation along the lines of Old Age Pensions for years. A Supreme Court decision was to the effect that the Provincial Government was responsible for payment, but Federal and Provincial finances met with equal shares to pay the Old Age Pensions, he went on. He explained the technical workings of the Act, pointing out that no individual could receive a pension if in receipt of income of more than $200. He or she must be over seventy years of age before a pension might be claimed. Real property if over the value of $1,000 is taken into consideration, Mr. Williams explained, when applications for pension were being considered. Whether or not the property is productive of income it is considered tantamount to five per cent investment. In the case of an old couple, the property owned by both, nominally, may be in the name of one or the other, but whether this is the case or not, in judgment of applications both are given equal shares.

It was necessary to prove twenty years residence for full pension, and that an applicant's nationality was British.

MASS OF ROUTINE
"Our board administers this Act on behalf of both Federal and Dominion Government, and so, when we are accused of using a lot of red tape, it must be remembered that on the demand of their representatives we must produce documentary evidence for their inspection," the speaker said.

"Age is the most difficult thing to discover," he added. "We must have proof of age, and the word is not sufficient from the individual, because we must answer to our two masters." Birth certificates, he said, were extremely difficult to obtain. But there were many ways of getting them.

Pension application forms were obtainable from any Government agent, from the Attorney-General's department and other sources, he said.

As to the charge that the Old Age Pensions Act was going to be hard to handle, the speaker declared that it would not be as difficult to administer as either the Workmen's Compensation or the Mothers' Pensions Acts. Mr. Williams recalled the Fifth Commandment: "Honor thy father and thy mother." A nation which could remember this would certainly be blessed, he declared.

OFFERED CRITICISM
Joshua Hinchliffe, M.P.P., took the platform. He had, he said, some suggestions to make, some information to hand out and an incentive to encourage labor.

The Old Age Pensions Act was passed without a warning being given that it was to be introduced as a bill to the B.C. Legislature. Mr. Hinchliffe said, however, that there was no such thing as a bad Old Age Pensions Act—just as was the case with whisky, in the words of a certain Irishman, he added.

The speaker recalled the suggestions he had formerly put forward to make the Act practical. His first was, that the Act should be economically sound. Absolute justice between the provinces was essential. The Act should have been contrived to encourage rather than to discourage thrift and care. Seventy, in some cases, was a little too old an age limit and $20 a month was just a little too little of a pension in some cases.

"I am not criticizing the Act to injure it but to improve it," Mr. Hinchliffe said.

FEAR OF OLD AGE

There was a time in the life of every industrial worker when he was of no more use in the scheme of things, said the speaker. The Old Age Pensions Act would lift from the mind of the working man for all time the dread of an old age of penury. It was necessary to pay, he said, for depreciation in the human machine. He demanded "an honest day's pay for an honest day's toil." Here was a remedy, he said.

The Old Age Pensions scheme was not adopted throughout Canada, he said. Australia paid such pensions all over the Commonwealth. Why could not Canada handle national subjects in a national way? he asked.

There were good reasons, said the speaker, that there should be a national pensions scheme. If an individual lived in Saskatchewan fifty years and was seventy-six years of age, but until that person had established five years residence in British Columbia, he or she would get nothing. At the end of that five years the pension would only give the individual as a month pension until such time as that individual's native province or place of residence for qualifying years should adopt that scheme of Old Age Pensions, he stated.

AUSTRALIA LEADS

The speaker compared the pension system of Canada with that of Australia. Australia paid women of sixty years a pension, men of sixty-five a pension and permanently disabled men from sixty years a pension. Canada should do that or better, he said. The great danger of legislation of present times was in providing assistance where it was needed least. A pension system, which is suitable to the nation could be evolved by Labor men in Canada, concluded the speaker. It was essential that there be a change, he declared.

The perfect scheme, he said, was where a laborer paid himself for his pension, could demand it as a right, and not beg for it as a pauper.

MARKS PROGRESS
At least, the chairman, Alderman E. S. Woodward commented, Canada had made a little progress. The country had had plenty of opportunity to move along the lines of Australia's pension scheme during the last fifty years. The present Government was the first to make a move in that direction.

Alderman J. B. Clearihue came forward simply to discuss the workings of the Act, so, he said. He paid a compliment to the board which administered the Act, when he spoke on the able way in which it handled its difficult task.

Alderman Clearihue lamented the fact that politics had been brought into the meeting. He criticized some of Canon Hinchliffe's suggestions in return. "The criticism offered to-night has not been altogether fair," Alderman Clearihue said. "Let us look a little for the good," he said, "and not only for the bad."

"We all have our ideals," he added. "We are all contributing our share to the pension scheme through taxes, and we should help the system along and when the evils are apparent we may try then to remedy them."

The chairman explained at the conclusion that Mr. Hinchliffe had been asked to criticize, and that he had done so, he thought, in a constructive way. The meeting had various questions to ask Mr. Hinchliffe.

Considerably over 100 veterans gathered in the G.W.V.A. Hall in Port Alberni last Friday night at the Armistice reunion and smoker of the Alberni branch of the Canadian Legion. The president, Capt. Frost, M.C., who occupied the chair, made a few fitting remarks with regard to the organization and its activities. At the election of officers for the ensuing year Capt. Frost was again asked to act as president but declined. H. Neale was proposed by Major Burde, seconded by Capt. Frost, and elected unanimously. The others elected were R. Webb, as secretary, and Comrades White, Jones, Frost, Koff, Crook and Stephens, together with the other officers, form the executive. The question of the observance of Armistice Day on November 11 and not combined with Thanksgiving Day was again brought up for discussion and the unanimous decision of the meeting was that November 11 and no other day should be observed as Armistice Day. The secretary was instructed to again bring this matter to the attention of headquarters and the members of Parliament for the district. After the business of the evening was concluded a solemn two minutes of silence in honor of fallen comrades was observed. Last Post was sounded by Comrade Harry Pickles. A fatigue party, consisting of Comrades Odium, Fawcett, Harford, Watson and Alford was then detailed

A musical programme to which Comrades Mitchell, Fleming, MacMinn, Stephens, Spratt, Coles, Koff, Rooney, Barrett, Bigwood, Tindal and other contributed, was enjoyed. The young daughter of Comrade Brown also earned well deserved applause by the pretty execution of a step dance. Between the solo items ringing choruses of the old war songs were given. Comrades Bradley and Little officiated at the piano and assisted in making the evening a great success.

All reacted a fraction from their highs, however, at the noon close.

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"
 (Copyright)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927
 Benefic aspects dominate through the busy hours of this day, according to astrology, which finds the planetary rule favorable to commercial enterprises, but menacing to all forms of speculation.

 There is a sign of great promise for business enterprises and whatever is started under this away should be profitable.
 Bankers come under a promising direction of the stars, which is read as indicating identification of interest with merchants and farmers.
 It has been frequently prophesied that the price of food would advance perceptibly and this forecast will become a fact as the winter progresses, the seers warn.

While in many parts of the country farmers will reap good rewards for the summer's labor, many will buy grains and vegetables in the coming months, if the stars are rightly read.
 Astrologers foresee that the great national problem of the future will concern the tilling of the soil in America.
 It is persistently prognosticated that the methods of big business will be brought to bear on farming and that the individual agriculturalist will lose his independence.
 Women should find this rule rarely favorable to them and to their ambitions. This should be a lucky day for shopping.

 Happy days may be counted on by those who wed while this configuration prevails.
 This is an auspicious day for meeting new friends, especially those of opposite sex, for romance starts readily under this way.
 Theatres are subject to influences stimulating to public interest. Actors and actresses should benefit.
 Music and art are well expected and the coming year should give great impetus to all cultural enterprises.
 Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which they gain through friendships.

 Children born on this day probably will be endowed with more than average talents. Body as well as mind is likely to be far above ordinary.

Plot to Smuggle Arms is Unearthed

Albany, Cal., Nov. 18.—Correspondence said by police to link a United States senator with a plot to smuggle arms to Mexico, revolutionaries and an arsenal of machine guns, rifles, pistols, brass knuckles and ammunition for the various firearms were seized yesterday in a raid on the sixteen-room home of John Mannerman, head of the Pacific Arms Company of San Francisco.

London-Capetown Flight is Started

London, Nov. 18.—An attempt to fly from London to Capetown in record time was started at 8 a.m. today by John Carney, who is really Baron Carney, an Irish peer, but who dropped the use of his title recently on becoming a naturalized United States citizen.
 Carney, who had kept his plans secret, hopped off from Capetown in a Fokker plane, only a few people seeing him take off. He was accompanied by a mechanic.
 He expects to reach Cairo in four days. From there he hopes to follow a route across Central Africa.
 Mr. J. L. Baird, the inventor of television and phonovision, says that "some faces sound like a gargle."

TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Wilson's Experience a Guide to Women Passing through the Change of Life

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I can not speak too highly of it as I was at the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move. I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle and I recommend it with great success, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about your medicines, as I cannot speak too highly of them." Mrs. EMMA WILSON, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

IBSEN'S "GHOSTS" ON AIR TO-NIGHT

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Hendrik Ibsen's world-famous play, "Ghosts," has been selected by the Howard Neill Players for presentation over KPQW Friday evening.

"Full of tense dramatic action and replete with thrills, this drama, it is a production that should be exceptionally entertaining for radio audiences," Mrs. Neill announced yesterday. "Ghosts" has been played in almost every language and in every civilized country in the world.

To-night's offering by the local troupe will be the twelfth of a series lasting throughout the winter months, coming on the air at 8:30 o'clock.

REAL OLD TIMES REVIVED TO-NIGHT

The memory lane offering scheduled over the Pacific Coast network between 9 and 10 o'clock this Friday evening, includes many old-time numbers that were popular a decade or more ago.

Local listeners who want to reminisce for this hour need only adjust the dials to KOMO or KPOA or any of the National Broadcasting Company southern stations to hear such old favorites as "The Picture That Turned Toward the Wall," and "The Moth and the Flame Played a Game One Day."

One specialty will be the "Evolution of Broadway," telling the history of music of New York from the time of the Indians to the present day.

"Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" will also be included.
